Aren't we all more than just our age or gender? Aren't we each a unique blend of behaviors and beliefs? Aren't we all motivated by different values and outlooks? How and why we make purchase decisions every day makes us unique. If you want to tap into this deeper layer of consumer insights, consider MotivatorIQ.

Today, marketers have a plethora of data options at their fingertips – everything from demographics to website visits to in-store purchases to email subscriptions. But much of the information available is really the effect. The real question is, what's the cause? That's where data based on cognitive psychology, like MotivatorIQ, can be a game-changer for many brands.

MotivatorIQ helps you understand an individual's tendency to be:

- Conscientious

- Materialistic
- Risk-taking
- Seeking good deals

- An early adopter of technology

Our scientific approach gives you access to data you can't find anywhere else.

Our team of data scientists and psychologists meticulously craft consumer surveys that produce dependable results. Instead of asking consumers if they possess a certain trait, we closely examine explicit behaviors that speak to the psychological factor being explored. After we've assembled and validated the responses, we use this data to fuel sophisticated, proprietary models that zero in on the key drivers and beliefs of individuals. AnalyticsIQ's psychological approach gives data a human touch. We get in the mind of consumers to understand what makes them tick, and then use that information to predict their next step.
